Foothill Ranch, Calif. – Kawasaki Motors Corp., U.S.A. (KMC) is proud to receive the OMA Gold Award for permanent general merchandise display at the GlobalShop show in Chicago for its Vulcan S ERGO-FIT Center design.

“ERGO-FIT is one of the ways that Kawasaki separates ourselves from the competition,” said Kawasaki Senior Vice President Sales & Operations Bill Jenkins. “The Kawasaki Vulcan S gives the rider the ability to tailor their motorcycle to their preference which increases comfort and confidence and having the fantastic ERGO-FIT Center display allows our dealers to educate and fit their customers on their showroom floor.”

The ERGO-FIT system features a combination of adjustable components for riders of different stature to help fit the motorcycle to the rider. Developed and constructed by One Source Industries (OSI) the ERGO-FIT display allows riders to sit on a Vulcan S motorcycle and try the different positions in handle bar and foot peg positions as well as multiple seats while taking up very little space on a dealer's showroom floor.
